JAPANESE
METHODISTS
To Dedicate a Church
On Sunday
Next.

The dedication services of the Japanese M. E. Church of Honolulu will take place next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The church is situated on River street between Beretania and Kukui. It is a wooden structure in American style, with seating capacity of 400 people. The pastor is Rev. G. Motokawa, and there are about seventy-five or eighty communicants. The church is under the general superintendence of Rev. J. W. Wadman.

The Methodist mission among the Japanese was begun in 1886. The Rev. Kiyama was the first evangelist and his work received a great impetus in the conversion of Hon. T. Ando, the local Consul-General, who is now at the head of the Temperance League of Japan, numbering 10,000 strong. Ten years later, upon the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Peck, who established the Methodist Church here, the work among the Japanese progressed in a most encouraging manner, and mission stations were established on the other islands. The Rev. Mr. Kihara was associated with Mr. Peck, and later with Rev. Geo. L. Pearson. Through their united efforts a church building was erected in 1898, but was burned two years later at the time of the plague. Shortly after this, the present pastor, the Rev. G. Motokawa, took charge. He at once took steps for the erection of a new church and today he rejoices in the consummation of his plans.

Mr. Motokawa has not only done his pastoral work, but has constantly visited the prisons and done much benevolent work.

Bishop Harris of Japan frequently visited the Islands while in San Francisco and assisted in superintending the church activities.

Miss Jayne, head of the Susanna Wesley Home for orphan children of the Japanese, is intimately associated in the mission labors here.

The trustees of the new Japanese Church are K. Kawasaki, M. Suzuki, G. Kumada, R. H. Trent, O. H. Walker, M. J. Johnston, K. Tanaka.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Honolulu, April 17, 1905.

Editor Advertiser:—I see in your paper an article on the liquor question in today's paper. I think the best way to settle the liquor traffic is to put men in the legislature that will vote for the government to take absolute control and ownership of all the manufacture and sale of all kinds of intoxicating drinks, and hire the men behind bars to run the saloons and wholesale houses, the same as a clerk is hired to run any store, and the revenue to be turned in to the government treasury, and that would do away with the private profit which is the only incentive a man has to keep a saloon.

Put the man, bartender, under big bonds for faithful work, and also strict rules for him to go by. He would have no incentive to keep a bad house or sell a man liquor, that was already drunk, as they do now, for the sake of the almighty dollar. I also send you a few leaflets, read them. My name is Thomas Edward, a poor working man, living at Tanaka, and I want to do all the good I can in this life, to make the conditions better for all humanity and hope you want to do the same.

Yours, for good to all,
THOMAS EDWARD.

Senator Stockbridge, of Michigan, often told a story of a very rich lumberman who came to congress from the lake region and rented the furnished house which belonged to a senator whose term had recently expired. The house was a palace and was completely furnished, all except the library, for the senator had taken his books with him. True to the instincts of a lifetime of carefulness, the lumberman-congressman surveyed the library, then accurately measured the empty shelves and telegraphed a prominent house in Chicago: "Send me at once 216 running feet of books." That was his idea of furnishing a library.

NESE M. E. CHURCH.
